Frequently Asked Questions

How do I sign up?

In Epique Cloud, under Benefits & Services, click the Thanks.io section and a new tab will open, asking for the name and email address of the agent. Company email address is required to sign up.

What is included in the service provided?

Epique Agents can take advantage of the Thanks.io Business Plan Package. This includes 50% off wholesale pricing, FREE campaigns, and FREE concierge design and automation.

How can I send targeted or mass mailers to my specific contacts?

Simply upload a csv file or manually add the contacts to the mailing list feature. If you're still building out a list there are options for a radius search and purchasing lists, as well. Thanks.io also integrates with Zapier for even more automation.

Are there pre-made templates or can I build my own?

Both! Epique has several options for Just Listed and Just Sold templates, as well as Open House templates. If you prefer to create your own template, Thanks.io integrates seamlessly with Canva for even more added convenience .

What other integrations can I use with Thanks.io?

Chrome, monday.com, API Nation, and Pabbly are just a few of several integration options. Additionally, there are pre-built and ready to use Zaps, allowing agents to save even more time.

How do I schedule a campaign?

Click the campaign tab, make the required selections, and schedule the sending preference drop down menu and your campaign is set to launch.

How can I find additional resources or information?

Thanks.io has a wide selection of available information in the easily accessible Knowledge Base as well as tutorials and a Facebook Mastermind group. Additionally, agents can schedule time with a dedicated concierge to assist with any questions.
